PASTORAL SCENE

Dear Friends in Christ,

Words are not adequate to express our appreciation for all those who have been so generous in serving God's Kingdom here at St Monica and St Benedict school and the surrounding communities. We have witnessed so much illuminating work in serving our human family in need, both materially and spiritually. The list of all the ministries and benefactors would require a much larger bulletin. In summary, we can say, with the spirit of humility, that we have come before the table of the Lord in thanksgiving for the Most Holy Eucharist. This is a time to celebrate, as well as to find time for silence in our lives, to allow God's Light to enter and strengthen us on our journey, centered on the Cross. Christmas Blessings and Happy New Year from our church and school staff.

One of the theological reflections a professor at the seminary shared with our class is something I reflect on every year: Please enjoy this excerpt from the late German Jesuit priest, Karl Rahner

“Have the courage to be alone. Only once you have really managed to do this, and have achieved it in a Christian way, can you hope to give the present of a heart filled with the Christmas spirit – in other words, a gently patient, courageously collected, softly tender heart – So: Stop, be silent, wait.

But, all this is merely the beginning, the preparation for your celebration of Christmas. If you manage to stay alone with yourself and to let the silence speak to you of the true God, then this loudly calling silence will become strangely ambiguous. This infinity, which silently surrounds you, does it ...drive you back into your limited day life?...Does it fall upon you with the merciless loneliness of death so as to make you run away from it into the more familiar sectors of your life...Or is it that which waits until you are open to its very self as something coming, the promised beatitude? If it said nothing, then we would find it quite impossible to celebrate Christmas from our heart. It tells us something, even quite exact: the message of Christmas told from within...this message is told to us by God at that point of the heart to which we should return; it is told to us by the light of the Christmas grace which enlightens everyone who comes into the world.

“... Christmas tells you in the experience of solitude to trust the nearness, it is not emptiness; let go and then you will find; give up and then you will be rich. For in your interior experience, you are no longer dependent on the hard tangible phenomena... you possess much more than any such phenomena, for the infinite has become nearness. This is how you interpret your interior experience; you must experience it in this way as the most solemn feast and celebration of the divine descent of eternity into time – of the infinite into the finite. This feast takes place within you, even within your very self. It takes place within you when you are silent, when you wait and when in faith, hope and love, you interpret correctly (that is, in the light of Christmas) what you experience... If we accept the silent immensity that surrounds us as something distant and yet at the same time near and overpowering – as a protecting nearness and a tender love which does not make any reservations; if we have the courage to understand ourselves in this way, which is possible only with grace and in faith, then we have had the Christmas experience of grace in faith. This experience is very simple; yet it is the peace promised to men of good will who are pleasing to God.”

Rahner, Karl. “Thoughts on the Theology of Christmas.” Theological Investigations, Vol. 3, 1974. 24-34.

Entrance Chant 279 O Come, Divine Messiah

First Reading 2 Samuel 7:1-5, 8b-12

When King David was settled in his palace, and the LORD had given him rest from his enemies on every side, he said to Nathan the prophet, "Here I am living in a house of cedar, while the ark of God dwells in a tent!" Nathan answered the king, "Go, do whatever you have in mind, for the LORD is with you." But that night the LORD spoke to Nathan and said: "Go, tell my servant David, 'Thus says the LORD: Should you build me a house to dwell in?'

"It was I who took you from the pasture and from the care of the flock to be commander of my people Israel. I have been with you wherever you went, and I have destroyed all your enemies before you. And I will make you famous like the great ones of the earth. I will fix a place for my people Israel; I will plant them so that they may dwell in their place without further disturbance. Neither shall the wicked continue to afflict them as they did of old, since the time I first appointed judges over my people Israel. I will give you rest from all your enemies. The LORD also reveals to you that he will establish a house for you. And when your time comes and you rest with your ancestors, I will raise up your heir after you, sprung from your loins, and I will make his kingdom firm. I will be a father to him, and he shall be a son to me. Your house and your kingdom shall endure forever before me; your throne shall stand firm forever."

The Responsorial Psalm Psalm 89:2-5, 27, 29

R. For ever I will sing the goodness of the Lord.

The promises of the LORD I will sing forever;
through all generations my mouth shall proclaim your faithfulness.
For you have said, "My kindness is established forever";
in heaven you have confirmed your faithfulness.

R. For ever I will sing the goodness of the Lord.

"I have made a covenant with my chosen one,
I have sworn to David my servant:
Forever will I confirm your posterity
and establish your throne for all generations."

R. For ever I will sing the goodness of the Lord.

"He shall say of me, 'You are my father,
my God, the Rock, my savior.'
Forever I will maintain my kindness toward him,
and my covenant with him stands firm."

R. For ever I will sing the goodness of the Lord.

Second Reading Romans 16:25-27

Brothers and sisters: To him who can strengthen you, according to my gospel and the proclamation of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery kept secret for long ages but now manifested through the prophetic writings and, according to the command of the eternal God, made known to all nations to bring about the obedience of faith, to the only wise God, through Jesus Christ be glory forever and ever. Amen.

OTHER INFORMATION

Gospel Luke 1:26-38

The angel Gabriel was sent from God to a town of Galilee called Nazareth, to a virgin betrothed to a man named Joseph, of the house of David, and the virgin's name was Mary. And coming to her, he said, "Hail, full of grace! The Lord is with you." But she was greatly troubled at what was said and pondered what sort of greeting this might be. Then the angel said to her, "Do not be afraid, Mary, for you have found favor with God. "Behold, you will conceive in your womb and bear a son, and you shall name him Jesus. He will be great and will be called Son of the Most High, and the Lord God will give him the throne of David his father, and he will rule over the house of Jacob forever, and of his kingdom there will be no end." But Mary said to the angel, "How can this be, since I have no relations with a man?" And the angel said to her in reply, "The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you. Therefore the child to be born will be called holy, the Son of God. And behold, Elizabeth, your relative, has also conceived a son in her old age, and this is the sixth month for her who was called barren; for nothing will be impossible for God." Mary said, "Behold, I am the handmaid of the Lord. May it be done to me according to your word." Then the angel departed from her.
